

Use the poetry skills that you developed last half term to write your own remembrance poem.

What linguistic features will you include (personification, imagery, onomatopoeia, alliteration, pathetic fallacy)?

Will your poem rhyme?

How many stanzas will it have?

Create your own addition and subtraction game or multiplication and division game.

During our last topic we compared our local area to Salzburg (an alpine city). We know Ashton has some old buildings too. Next time you're out and about, can you find any examples of Roman numerals on any of the buildings?

Record the examples that you see.

Homework Mat Autumn Two 2024 Year 5CH and 5NH

Write a non-chronological report or a fact file about a famous Anglo-Saxon warrior or king.

Who will you choose?

Beowulf ... Alfred the Great... Edward the Elder... Edward the Confessor...
Harold Godwinson.

Create your own poster, encouraging people to reach out in times of need or the qualities of being a good friend. This will tie in nicely with our Friendship week this November.

Have a go at baking Anglo-Saxon honey oat cakes. These are easy to make and very tasty. Serves 10-15 people.

Anglo-Saxon honey oat cakes

Time: 30 minutes
Medium

Ingredients:

350 grams rolled oats
(whole rolled oats if possible)
225 grams butter
225 grams honey
Pinch of salt

Method:

1. Melt the butter in a medium-sized saucepan.
2. Add the salt, honey, and oats and stir until they are well mixed.
3. Line a baking tray with greaseproof paper or a little butter.
4. Spoon the mixture out onto a greased baking tray and press it down well.
5. Bake at 170°C for 30 minutes or until golden brown.
6. Cool for a few minutes then mark into squares while still warm and serve when cold.
